“... [U]ndeniably infectious rock...” “[T]he standout tracks... [including] Falling Through the Sky... could do some serious damage on U.S. radio in 2013... And that means there are songs on this album you’ll likely be humming in your sleep.”
John Sinkevics, SpinsOnMusic.com

“... [D]on’t mistake Willamena for anything but pros. Lost in the Shadows is their fourth CD, with solid songs and major-label-level production from the likes of Kevin Beamish (REO Speedwagon, Kenny Chesney, Reba McEntire, Elton John)... The songs are there, including... Falling Through The Sky... which should be given an ear by radio MDs as well as music supervisors.” Artist Spotlight, TheTop22.com

As of 11/4/13, it remains #23 on AOL/Slacker’s “Adult Rock” channel.

“... Their music is ready made to fill arenas... by the time you leave a show of Willamena’s, you might be humming a few bars of their music.” John Verburg, WestMichiganIndie.com

“... Unforgettable hooks represent one of many strengths of a band whose versatility shines live and in the studio.”
Carly Plank, Revue Magazine
